

the wine

The Book says “the apple tempted eve”, our book says, “it must have been the grape”.

frivolous, intense, sexy, dirty, crisp, full-bodied, light-bodied, fruity, earthy, cherry, blackberry, grapefruit, apple, dry, oaky.
we could fill this page with descriptors used for the juice, and it would only be the beginning...

from wines that pair naturally with food...
to the wines that are the show...
from here and around the world...

food & wine

contrasts are a beautiful thing:
i.e. complex with simple, spicy with sweet, salty with fruity.
but sometimes birds of a feather:
i.e. tangy with tangy, earthy with earthy, sweet with sweeter.

have fun with this, as rules are meant to be...

corkage policy

no corkage on the first 750ml bottle—if we don't carry that special wine, bring it in...

explore

if you would like a taste of any wine we offer by the glass, just ask.
want a half glass, let us know.

if you fall in love

most all of our selections are available for retail sale at 40% off the listed price.

the point:

sniffing, sipping, tasting, quaffing...
be sure to experiment and enjoy...

riesling

a favorite amongst wine geeks (just ask one). talk about dexterity—this grape produces wines that are dry, off-dry—all the way to sweet. whichever you prefer, these rieslings from around the world are magnificent and (at present) mostly underappreciated...

australia

the rieslings from australia are known for their electricity—citrus fruits that shock the palate and turbo-charge the flavors of food...the following wine is a bone dry offering from vineyard established over 160 years ago—and also the first winery to commercially release a wine with a stelvin enclosure...

pewsey vale 'individual vineyard selection' . eden valley . 09 33

italy

if you are a fan of the grape, chances are you won't resist the opportunity to taste an organically grown riesling from a family owned winery established in 1909... and because we had to look it up—oltrepo pavese is in the north of italy inside the boundaries of the lombardy region...

cabanon . oltrepo pavese . 07 35

riesling accounts for less than 3 percent of the grapes planted in austria, which is a surprise when you consider the status of austria's relatively small production in the world of wine...generally vinted dry, austrian rieslings are full bodied, aromatic, complex—and unlike any other rieslings produced on the planet....

germany

the benchmark. the rieslings of germany are easy to fall in love with—highly aromatic, with a kaleidoscope of flavors...

there is sweetness in these wines, but the high levels of palateshocking acidity maintain balance, intensify flavor, and invigorate the soul...(these wines may also cause hyperbole, poetry, and general euphoria...)

cabernet sauvignon

this grape provides the backbone to many great and famous wines—some might call cabernet sauvignon the king of grapes...or at least the most popular...

well-structured with silky, juicy black fruit, its classic flavor profile includes firm tannins, cassis, bing cherry, plenty of oak, spicy cedar scents with hints of mint.

bordeaux-style

outside of france, wines fashioned in the style of bordeaux are sometimes called 'meritage' blends, or 'clarets'...(both words, generally, mispronounced)...

it doesn't really matter what the label says, so long as they employ the traditional grapes of cabernet sauvignon, merlot, cabernet franc, petit verdot & malbec.

below are wines exclusively using 2 or more of these grape varietals.

provence

the ancient greeks planted vines in provence 2,500 years ago...(but that might have only been because it was so convenient to their favorite beaches)...grenache, carignan and cinsaut are the major players, but there's plenty of mourvèdre (especially in bandol), syrah and cabernet sauvignon as well...

languedoc-roussillon

last time we counted, the languedoc-roussillon was the largest wine-growing region in the world, accounting for about two billion (yes, billion) bottles a year... generalizing such a vast area would be foolhardy, however what can be said is that a lot of creative people producing some really wonderful, original wines here...

carignan, cinsault, grenache, syrah and mourvèdre are the major grapes, but cabernet sauvignon and merlot are proven here as well...

italy is responsible for about one-fifth of the world's wine production. (which comes to about 8 billion bottles a year, give or take...) no other country on earth has the variety of indigenous grape varieties as found in italy, either. (several hundred have been "officially" cataloged...) and take into consideration over 4,000 years of winemaking history, it's a wonder...a sometimes confusing wonder...so we've split things up a bit, according to region...

and for the curious, the varietal is listed below each selection in parenthesis...

the veneto traditionally gets all the press in the northeast, and for good reason...with the famous whites as well as the most famous of reds—amarone—there is a lot to enjoy...however, the quality wines emerging from its neighbors is worth a look for certain...

ah, tuscan...often when images of italy float through our heads, we picture the tuscan villa backdrop and a bottle of chianti...and for many of us, our first introduction to italian wine was a bottle of chianti, wrapped in wicker with a candle stuck in its neck...

but the days of cheap chianti are long gone...tuscan is the undisputed home of sangiovese, where it is the backbone of chianti and the engine of brunello...

in the past decade and half, there has been a renaissance of sorts in portugal.

no longer tethered by outdated and constrictive wine laws of the past, growers and producers have started to diversify from traditional fortified wines into dynamic and unique still wines. in these wines, you will find traditional port varietals (touriga nacional, touriga franca, tinta barroca, trincadeira) being showcased as still wines, and often blended with more “mainstream” grapes (cabernet sauvignon, syrah).

needless to say, these are wines that are as exciting as they are original.

and yes, they are hard to pronounce...but rather easy to enjoy...

apéritif . stimulate your appetite tio pepe palomino fino sherry . 7 revive your mouth after a day of abuse...dry, tangy, nutty... sherry is not just for old british ladies at bridge club...at least not this sherry...

pedro romero oloroso sherry . 6 unlike the fino sherry, this oloroso is served at room temperature... so if you're looking for something to electrify the palate and take you into your first course, this is the wine...(try it with some blue cheese and almonds...)

domaine de joÿ 'floc de gascogne' . 6 floc de gascogne has been the traditional apéritif of armagnac since the 17th century...it's a blend of 1/3 armagnac and 2/3 fresh grape juice...a great way to kick things off...

lillet blanc . 7

since its creation in 1887, lillet is the only apéritif made in bordeaux...it's a blend of wine, fruit liqueurs, fruit and fruit peels aged for up to one year in oak... try it on the rocks with a twist of orange or lemon...

kopke dry white port . 6 white port? yes, indeed-give it a go on the rocks with a splash of soda... it might be your new favorite...

dolin dry vermouth de chambéry . 7 dolin was founded in 1821, and has been using the same recipe ever since... by using quality wine from the savoy, and a mixutre of 54 plants and herbs found in the meadows above chambéry, they create a distinctively light, floral and elegant vermouth suitable for sipping on the rocks...really...it's not just for martinis...

vya extra dry vermouth . 7

the genesis of vermouth dates back to the 1700s...consider andrew quady's modern update a re-birth...It will elevate a martini, for certain-though enjoyed simply on the rocks is the best way to experience its beguiling mixture of floral, herbal and citrus flavors...

campari . 8

more than sixty ingredients go into this rather bracing beverage. order it on the rocks with a slice of orange, or ask us to make you a negroni...

dubonnet rouge . 7

red wine grapes harvested in the south of france, flavored with a secret blend of spices with a touch of quinine...

montenegro amaro . 8

montenegro amaro was created in 1885 by herbalist and distiller stanislao cobianchi just outside of the town of bologna...the recipe and preparation is the same today as it was back then...over 40 ingredients go into the production, and the result is a liquid with a dramatic mixture of bitter and sweet...

averna amaro . 8

"people are searching for something different. If you put averna at the center of the world, you drink slowly—you talk to each other." —francesco averna.

in 1854, the friars of st. spiritos abbey presented to their justice and benefactor, salvatore averna, a gift—a unique elixir infused with herbs, roots, flowers, bark, orange peel, and alcohol. four generations later, the averna amaro remains a family business...il gusto pieno della vita!!

fernet-branca . 8

twenty-seven herbs picked in four continents and aged in oak for a year, this grape-based digestif is a little hard to pin down...it is as much a revitalizing medicine as it is a beverage—but be warned: it's not so subtle...

green chartreuse . 10

the recipe for this distinct liquid is known by only three chartreuse monks who oversee its production and maturation. it's said that over 130 different plants are used...some like it neat, but we find it most pleasing on the rocks pastis . 8

when absinthe was banned in france 1915, pastis was created...add a little sugar... add a little water...

kübler absinthe . 12.50

but if you'd like to do real thing, the 95 year ban on absinthe has been partially lifted...please keep in mind, however, that it is still listed by the DEA under the nomenclature of "drugs and chemicals of concern"...

g. bertagnoli grappa di teroldego . 10

four generations of the bertagnoli family have produced grappa from the skins of teroldego grapes in the trentino alto adige region of Italy... clean...penetrating...grappa also appropriate for after dinner ...

cocktails

$9 each

cocktail #1: the old fashioned really—it's one of america's oldest cocktails...your great-grandfather used to drink them at the pendennis club in louisville...and yet, when's the last time you tried one? we'll make you one with maker's mark.

cocktail #2: the martini be forewarned: your martini will have a dose of vermouth, as was intended by those that created it...and, well, vermouth is fortified wine...and this is a wine bar...

cocktail #3: the manhattan ok...so rumor has it that the manhattan was invented at a party hosted by winston churchhill's mother...it really must have been quite a party...bourbon, bitters and sweet vermouth shaken and strained...

cocktail #4: the rob roy

if you take your manhattan and trade bourbon for scotch, you've got a rob roy. historically, rob roy is known both as folk hero and an outlaw...we prefer you sip on one of these and aspire to the former.

cocktail #5: the sidecar

the history of this drink involves an american army captain in paris during world war one who was astute enough to always arrive and depart the bar via motorcycle sidecar...we like to make ours with metaxa.

cocktail #6: the negroni

feeling a little bitter? well, bitterness loves company, and there is no better bitter way to cleanse one's palate than a helping of camillo negroni's favorite florentine beverage...seriously...it's not for the faint of heart, and it is better than brushing your teeth.

cocktail #7: the sazerac invented in new orleans just about 150 years ago...in fact, some trace the name "cocktail" to the very glass used to serve the original sazerac...which means that if you want to get back to your roots, order a sazerac immediately. We prepare our sazeracs with rittenhouse straight rye, by the way, and if you've never had one: it's like a costume party in a glass.

cocktail # 8: the gimlet jack nicholson...ernest hemingway...raymond chandler...how about you?

cocktail #9: the margarita

please note that your margarita will be served with a choice of: don julio añejo, herradura reposado, patrón silver or sauza conmemorativo.

cocktail #10: the daiquirí

we don't have a blender, so you'll have to have your daiquirí the way we had them back when...it's a quieter cocktail, for certain...and the flavor will leave you wondering what possessed them to throw it in a food processor in the first place.

cocktail #11: the brandy alexander google 'brandy alexander' and you get a hard rock band from greensboro, a professional female wrestler and a whole lot of homepages belonging to girls named brandy...drinking a brandy alexander, however, beats the internet any day.

cocktail #12: the pastis

before you order this, ask christene to talk you into it...if she's not around to do the job, just close your eyes and imagine yourself at a paris sidewalk café with a fascinating companion and a copy of a moveable feast in your back pocket...

cocktail #13: the long island iced tea . 10 so you've had a long island iced tea before...well, this is much the same—only we use nothing but premium liquors to put ours together...

cocktails with bubbles

$10 each

the classic champagne cocktail people will argue about the true recipe...fact is, the bartenders that started calling their creations “champagne cocktails” aren’t around to testify, so we’re going with the old stand-by—bitters, sugar, and bubbles with a twist of lemon.

the alfonso

so there’s a whole gaggle of variations on the classic champagne cocktail, but this is one that we all rather liked...the addition of dubonnet (a red wine apéritif from france) adds an aromatic burst and a little spicy edge...

kir royale

you’ve maybe ordered and consumed a “kir royale”, but if it wasn’t produced with real crème de cassis—you got ripped off...ours consists of bubbles with a splash of trénel crème de cassis de bourgogne...

purple royale

clear creek distillery in portland makes a lovely, intense liqueur using loganberries (a hybrid of raspberries and blackberries)...we use it to make a distinctly northwest version of the kir royale...

the french 75

as in 75mm guns used by the french during world war one...seriously...sipped by officers just before battle...gin, fresh squeezed lemon juice (lightly sweetened) with the addition of bubbles...bang...

cold duck

the deal with this champagne cocktail is that if you order it, you have to drink it...it is a strange and beguiling concoction for the adventurous...two parts red wine (we use a classic bordeaux rouge) and three parts sparkling with just a touch of added sweetness...

black velvet rasputin

back in 1861, the nation of england was mourning the death of prince albert, and a rather empathetic barman decided that even the champagne should wear black...our drink is not so dour—old rasputin russian imperial stout married with an equal part bubbles...incidentally, a top-notch hangover cure...

the sally bowles

it’s not a pre-requisite to have seen Cabaret, though it does give some insight into the drink...german ice wine is mixed with st. germain elderflower liqueur, a splash of sweetness and topped off with sparkling wine...divine decadence, indeed...

$10 each

mimosa

though most everybody knows that a mimosa is orange juice and bubbles, we thought it prudent to mention that we get to use fresh orange juice in ours...

d'artagnan

if you can come up with the names of the musketeers (without the aid of your internet ready cellular device), we just may buy you one...though if you can also come up with the author, then we might really have to buy you one...
by the way, if one were to spruce up a mimosa with some armagnac and grand marnier, one would ostensibly have themselves a d'artagnan...

the griffin

the tuscarora mill in leesburg virginia has been around since 1899, and this is one of their concoctions—though jim probably didn't know that when he suggested mixing red pineau des charentes with sparkling wine...

champagne antoine

antoine's (new orleans) is america's oldest family run restaurant (1840), and it's said that they invented oysters rockefeller...seems they also came up with this vexing mixture of gin, dry vermouth, pernod and champagne...

the american flyer

while nobody can tell us why it's called an american flyer, we can assure you that it's unsafe to operate any manner of aviation related machinery after drinking one of these...fresh lime juice and white rum placed in a flute rimmed with sugar, then finished off with some bubbles...

the moulin rouge

if you're a fan of early 90s british comedies, then you might know this as the "bolli-stoli" that patsy and edina used to drink in excess...ours is a more humble mixture of stolichnaya and sparkling wine...not the most elegant idea, for certain—but a fast track to feeling absolutely fabulous...

the horn of plenty

we rather like the idea of a horn filled with inexhaustible gifts and celebratory fruits...but since that isn't available, perhaps a blend of campari and grand marnier in a flute of sparkling wine will suffice...?

sea captain's special

it seems a shame to sacrifice a bottle of champagne on the bow of newly minted seafaring vessels... better to save the bottle, throw in some rye, a bit of pastis and enjoy...
oh, and because the water is sometimes rough, this one's served on the rocks in a very stable glass...
